Dear Ronnie:

Enclosed is one last exhibit to show what the Times' policy is when it comes to assassinations.

John Leonard (now Editor of the Sunday Book Review) reviewed Jim Garrison's "heritage of Stone." The unedited review appeared only in the original City Edition. The edited review was in all subsequent editions.

Please note the following:

1) Title change from "Who Killed John F. Kennedy," to "The Show-Garrison Affair."

2) Deletion of the paragraph heading "Mysteries Persist."

3) Deletion of the last 30 sentences which ask some very pertinent questions.

This seems to be George Orwell's "Memory Hole" 14 years early.

Sincerely,

Jerry Policoff
